For your final project, you are going to write a 600 word essay on a Computer Science subject. The subject can be anything you are interested in; but please keep in mind that you should be sufficiently familiar with the subject so that you can turn it to an English essay. The essay should be completely written by yourself and any kind of copying from papers, books, websites, your friends’ projects, etc., will make you fail the course. The deadline for submitting the reports is by the end of Tir, 19th. Email your reports to farimafarahani@ce.sharif.edu.

You should write a high-quality essay in a way that it seems that an English person has written it. Do not merely provide a word by word translation from Persian to English; instead, try to use the most pertinent terms and expressions by searching on the Net and looking up Dictionaries. The quantity of essay is not important (although it should be at least 600 words) and one who writes a long essay does not necessarily get a good mark; rather, you should try to write a high-quality essay which is errorless and is made up of correct sentences and expressions. Try to use punctuation marks correctly (e.g. marks for ending the statements or connecting statements) and avoid grammatical errors.

Note that your essays should include the following parts:

- Introduction: Aimed at introducing the subject or the problem that will be covered by the essay. It can be three or four lines.
- Body: This part will discuss the whole subject with a sufficient amount of detail.
- Conclusion: What you have discussed in the Body part will be summarized in this section. This part can be around two to three lines.
